PUBLIC PMP® CERTIFICATION PREPARATION BY STS

Project Management Institute (PMI®) has recently changed their approach to certification. The new guidelines, particularly the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK) 7th Edition is not suited for self-study. With a broader focus on a variety of predictive, iterative and adaptive project management approaches, the PMP® certification preparation has become more complex and difficult.

STS has created an innovative and creative learning approach. While strictly covering the ECO \(exam content outline\) and reflecting the material to which we have access as a PMI Authorized Training Partner (ATP), our experienced, certified instructors facilitate class discussions, activities and use case studies to bring the theoretical approaches to life in real project environments. Our live training courses are supplemented with extensive e-Learning modules. Our courses also include access to a world-leading exam simulation tool "X-AM", which includes about 1300 test questions and optional digital learning tools.

Our instructors are all PMI® acknowledged trainers and will be available to accompany and coach you until you receive your PMP® certification.

OUR LEARNING APPROACH

Our courses are unique! STS combines instructor-led training sessions with classical learning material and complementary digital learning tools. We focus on teaching best practices in project management while assuring that the candidates learn all the necessary knowledge and competences to pass the exam.

Lessons learned and sharing experiences plays a large part in our workshops.

The public training is held in English; the trainers speak French and/or German.

LEARNING MATERIAL

- In line with PMI's ATP training approach, each certification candidate will have access to PMI's extensive "PMI® Authorized PMP® Exam Prep" containing a student handbook, videos, templates, checklists, and self-assessment tests
- Course Material: The electronically provided binder includes all slides presented by the trainer.
- Each participant will also have access to our exam simulator X-AM PMP - an online learning tool which helps candidates
 - to learn, consolidate and revise subject matter by answering questions and reviewing explanations;
 - to evaluate their knowledge level and to follow their progression by means of statistically stored performance measurement;
 - to practice for the exam under close-to-real conditions.¹
- As an option, each participant can add a digital library of dedicated project management learning contents which treat the different certification topics in more details. This self-paced digital learning material will reinforce the learning and provide in-depth insights to important project management topics including Agile, social competences, etc.

Participants should expect to make a considerable personal investment to prepare for this exam.

Then follows a 4-day course with individual preparation work – split into 2 blocks of 2 days. The “All inclusive” package also offers distant coaching between the self-study phase and the classroom training.

We offer on-site and virtual trainings. The onsite-trainings are delivered in a hybrid format: face-to-face with the possibility to join in virtually
